

GENERAL INFORMATION

Shoshone-Bannock Tribes The membership of the Shoshone and Bannock Tribes consist of all persons of Indian blood whose names appear on the official census roll of the Shoshone and Bannock Tribes as of January 1, 1935, and all children born to any member of the Shoshone-Bannock Tribes who is a resident of the reservation at the time of birth and of said children.

Treaty with the Shoshone and Bannocks The Fort Bridger Treaty was made and concluded on July 3, 1868, by and between Commissioners, on part of the United States and Chief's and Headmen of the Shoshone and Bannock Tribes.

Fort Hall Indian Reservation – Territory The Treaty establishes the original boundaries of the Fort Hall Indian Reservation that was set aside for the Shoshone and Bannock Tribes. The original acres set aside were 1,202,329.6 acres. 2001 – Currently, the Fort Hall Reservation consists of 543,932 acres. 97.5% is Tribal or individual tribal members owned. The Reservation covers lands within 4 Idaho counties – Bingham, Bannock, Power & Caribou. The territory jurisdiction of the Shoshone-Bannock Tribes extends to the territory within the present confines of the Fort Hall Reservation and to such other lands without such boundaries as may be added under any law of the United States, except as otherwise provided by law.

Constitution and Bylaws (1936) Pursuant to an order approved March 13, 1936, the Secretary of the Interior, submitted for ratification to the members of the Shoshone and Bannock Tribes to vote for the Constitution and Bylaws for the Tribes. The vote turned favorable to approve the Constitution and Bylaws thereby creating order to establish a more responsible government, promote our general welfare, conserve and develop our lands and resources, and secure to ourselves and our posterity the power to exercise certain rights of self-government not inconsistent with Federal laws.

Business License Act (1992) The Shoshone-Bannock Tribes have a primary interest in regulating the conduct of business and trade on the Fort Hall Indian Reservation. Thus, it is appropriate that all persons who exercise the privilege of engaging in business on the Fort Hall Indian Reservation register and obtain a business license from the Shoshone-Bannock Tribes Business License Department.

The Shoshone-Bannock Tribes have jurisdiction to adopt and enforce this Act upon all persons conducting business on the Fort Hall Indian Reservation. Land Use Commission v. A & J's Market Civ. C-89-63 (1990). Tribal jurisdiction is necessary to protect the culture, social structure, economy, health, safety, welfare, resources and population of the Fort Hall Indian Reservation.

The Business License Act was adopted by the Shoshone-Bannock Tribes in accordance with the provision of the treaty and the Indian Reorganization Act and that such power still exists and is a necessary instrument of self-government and territorial management. Authority for the Business License Act, FHBC-92-S-1, April 15, 1992, is found in the Indian Reorganization Act of June 18, 1934 (48 Stat., 984) as amended and under Article VI, Section 1 (a,h,k,l,r,s) and Article VI, Section 2 of the Tribal Constitution.

Business License Requirement. The Business License Act (92) FHBC-92-S-1 states:
